

Therapists' FAQ

Do Dogs Motivate Independence?

Presented by Diane Rampelberg, Ovelle and Prairie

Dustin's Paw of Idaho
A non-profit dedicated to turning challenges into miracles

Do Dogs Motivate Independence? This eBook addresses Frequently Asked Questions by Therapists (Speech, Occupational Therapy and Physical Therapy). We will examine the following questions:

- What do dogs do for patients? (A brief look into research.)
- What is Dustin's Paw of Idaho?
- Who are Ovelle and Prairie?
- What is a therapy dog?
- Who is Canine Companions for Independence?
- For what purpose does Canine Companions for Independence provide dogs to the disabled?
- What do the dogs do for therapists?
- How do the dogs work in schools/hospitals/clinics?
- What concerns are there about having a dog in therapy?
- How do you handle patient/staff with allergies to dogs?
- How do you handle insurance?
- What health/infection control policies need to be in place when using dogs?
- How can you tell if a patient is ready to work with a dog?
- How do you keep your patients safe around dog?
- How do you handle religious/culture/dog issues?
- How do you handle concerns about the dog being a major distraction to therapy?
- What management issues need to be addressed with a dog in school/hospital/clinic?
- As a therapist, how do you incorporate a dog into your sessions?
- How do dogs help patients manage behaviors?
- Do you have any clinic/hospital/school dog handling tips?
- Are you ready to handle a Canine Companion for Independence Facility Dog?
- How do you get a Canine Companion for Independence Facility Dog?
- Conclusion.

Send email to diane@dustinspaw.org and ask for the link to download the eBook.